And now a few words from me:

I know, I know... I'm very handsome! My name is Baloo, and I'm looking for my forever home! I will be your protector; my foster mom says it to me all the time! I must be honest with you, I'm a barker, especially at men, because they are big and scary! I bark every time my foster dad approaches me, but I also let him pick me up and then I give him kisses! I have a long list of things that I love, including going for walks, being with my people, going for car rides, playing with toys, and loving my foster brother. Walks are top on my list of the best things to do! My foster mom tells me I'm the best walker! One thing I get in trouble for on my walks is the barking, but I'm just trying to protect my people! I really love hanging out with my foster mom and dad. I love being in the car and going for car rides... it's so fun to watch the world go by!! Toys are also so much fun! I can spend hours ripping them apart! Last but not least, I really enjoy my foster brother, with whom I have become very attached (and he loves me too)!

And now a few words from my foster family:

Ohhhh handsome Baloo... those eyes and that cream-coloured silky fur of yours make hearts swoon! Baloo is a sweet boy who loves life! He is probably the most vocal boy I have met! When he wants attention, he certainly tells you, and while out for walks he lets everyone in the neighbourhood know he is there! He LOVES going for walks and sniffing everything in sight! He fell in love with his foster brother as soon as he set eyes on him, and his foster brother also did the same. They are the best of friends and love playing together. If you think you could handle having all this cuteness in your home, this is the guy for you!
