I LIKE...

- Learning how to be a dog and a member of a family. In my previous life I was used as a commodity to make money. Love, affection and regular mealtimes are all new to me. I am slowly adjusting but I really love being loved just for being me.
- Snuggles, cuddles & pets.
- Cozy dog beds and warm blankets to curl up in.
- YOU! My human is my favourite person in the whole world. #bestiesforlife.
- Other calm and civilized dogs, however I am also fine being an only dog.

Cinderella

I DON'T LIKE...

- Cats. #herekittykitty
- Young children. Too busy & chaotic.
- People who wear hats, caps & hoodies.
- The crate! I hate that thing. #freedomcries
- Loud noises & anything new to me.

MY TRAINING...

Housetrained:	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	I am "housebroken" but only if you keep me on a schedule.
Crate Trained:	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No	I HATE the crate. It is a "no go" zone for me. I am working on being transported in the car with a crate but that is also a work in progress.
Leash Trained:	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No	It's a work in progress. I am very fearful of new people and places. I need to go slow and be in calm spaces. Busy cities are not for me.
Suitable for an Apartment	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> Maybe	No, I have separation anxiety

Cinderella

AND NOW A FEW WORDS FROM ME...

Hi, my name is Cinderella, but you can call me Cindy. Since arriving at my foster home, I have had to adjust to plenty of new things, from having a name to not needing to fight for food. It was scary at first but I'm getting better every day. I still feel threatened by people wearing caps, hats, and hoodies so I bark at them. I don't like when my human goes away. When foster mom goes to the store, I let everyone know I don't like it by crying and howling. I don't get along with cats as I have high prey drive. I could live with another dog, but I really only care for my human. I'm a gal who has so much love to give, enjoys cuddles and who would do anything to please. Would you be my everything?

I AM...

- Loving
- Affectionate
- Fearful
- Snuggly
- A hunter
- Learning & in training
- Sweet
- Timid

Cinderella

AND NOW A FEW WORDS FROM MY FOSTER FAMILY...

Cindy is a gentle girl who always wants to be close to her human. She is insecure and afraid of loud noises and anything new to her, but she adjusts quickly because she is curious and adaptable. She loves to go for a walk and ride in the car. She is very nice and rarely barks. She is mostly house trained, but she won't ask for the door so she must be left out regularly. Cindy won't go out by herself, not even with another dog. You must go out with her, otherwise she will stay at the door waiting for you. Since she wants to be as close as possible to her human, you also must be in sight when she eats. She suffers from separation anxiety and will cry, howl and whine loudly. She is calm in the house and will occasionally play with a stuffed toy. She would be a great companion for someone who's home most of the time.
