And now a few words from me:

Hi, I'm Leia! I'm a very sweet, shy girl, but once I get the lay of the land, I'll be ready to play. I have long drooping ears, large paws and thick legs – that's my Basset heritage! I absolutely love to be with other dogs; playing with them is the best! I'm currently living with foster brothers and sisters of all ages and sizes and especially enjoy well-balanced playmates. I can be shy when meeting new people and it may take me a moment to feel comfortable with you, but then I'll be your best friend. Because I'm a sensitive girl, I need a calm environment – no loud voices or fast movements, please. Young children might overwhelm me, so if there are children in the home, older teenagers would suit me the best. Would you like to meet?

And now a few words from my foster family:

Leia is a charming young lady who has blossomed into a fun-loving, playing dog while in foster care, although it took her a bit of time to adjust. She is not shy to play and chase, as well as to be chased. She loves being outside and she is house trained. She is a great sleeper and puts herself to bed by going into the bedroom and right into her crate, where she settles for the entire night. Leia will need ongoing assistance with leash training as this is very new to her. She loves cuddling with her human during evening movie time. Leia would do better in a quiet suburban home rather than a big city center, as an environment with loud noises with fast movements /activity would not be suitable for her.
